

I am adamantly opposed to weakening the current Indiana Telephone Privacy Law. The effort by the Consumer Bankers Association to change the present law is an obvious attempt to circumvent the public desire for protection from unwanted and invasive intrusions in our homes in order to further their own corporate desires at our expense.